GUO – A CELEBRATION OF DALIAN AND NORTHEASTERN CHINESE CUISINE – OPENS 6 JUNE AT NEW WORLD DALIAN HOTEL

On 6 June 2019, GUO restaurant opens at New World Dalian Hotel, presenting a fusion of local Dalian culinary favourites and innovative interpretations of Northeast China cuisine, including beloved one-pot dishes and Dalian’s renowned seafood. In keeping with the generous hospitality and warm spirit of the Northeast China people, guests will dine in a buzzy, stylishly casual atmosphere, designed to make every meal a social occasion.

Northern’s famous seafood, smoked fish and meat, and authentic ingredients will be prominently featured in dishes such as Homemade Inner Mongolia Beef Jerky, a Seafood Tower, Pan-Fried Abalone with Yunnan Truffle, Fried Rice with Cuttlefish Ink, Homemade Dumplings and, of course, a live seafood selection.

Guo translates to “cooking pot” in Chinese, with the restaurant featuring 11 special one-pot dishes served to the table. This traditional cooking method intensifies and melds flavours, which can be savoured in such dishes as Stewed oose and Stewed beef brisket.

As a Dalian native and expert in Northeast China regional cuisine, GUO Chef Win is able to apply his know-how to creative presentations and healthful preparations and cooking methods that retain all the flavours and appeal of original recipes. For example, he replaces the traditional tomato in the popular Stewed Chicken one-pot dish with Changbai Mountain ginseng for both taste and nutritional benefits.

The dining experience will be enhanced by a curated selection of Chinese spirits and wines as well as a wide selection of beers and fresh juices. At a Tea Bar counter, guests can drop in to pick and choose from Puer, Black, Oolong, green of the finest teas from Yunnan or Fujian China regions, and GUO will feature seasonal menus matched with complementary teas.
